Administrator Plans Changes At Hospital

by Adree Shortie
Echo staff writer

All hospitals need a good, consistent public relations program, not only to induce doctors into the community, but to develop better communications between the medical field and the public, Howard Valentine told the Sea Coast Echo in an interview.

The newly-appointed administrator of Hancock General Hospital described a number of innovative programs planned for the county hospital which include public information on hospital administration and medical self-help programs for the general public.

The young administrator is a good example of the value of setting goals and working toward them. Although just 30 years old, Valentine has nine years of experience in hospital administration behind him.

"I always wanted to be a hospital administrator," he said, describing the events which led him to Hancock General. Setting his goal on that position, he started literally at the bottom and has worked his way up through the nine years to his present position.

A native of Vicksburg, Valentine was graduated in 1964 from the University of Southern Mississippi with a B.S. in business administration. His primary aim was to get into the medical field, he says, and would have liked to remain in college for a masters in hospital administration.

Since further formal study was financially impossible at that time, he determined to do it on his own. His first job was as storeroom supervisor at Baptist Hospital in Jackson.

"Whatever job I had," he said, "I studied all the time and every chance I had, I'd investigate the other departments and systems in effect."

HOWARD VALENTINE

"The salary wasn't too good," he said smiling, "but at least I was in a hospital." After a year at Baptist he received an offer to move to the University Medical Center as a buyer. Shortly after the move he was promoted to assistant director of purchasing at the Medical Center and remained in that capacity for three years.

Principal Named At HNC

J.A. O'Neal, supervisor of the Title I program for Hinds County (Miss.) Schools, was named principal of Hancock North Central high school at Tuesday night's meeting of the county school board.

Jerry C. Mullin of Bay St. Louis was named HNC's assistant principal.

In addition to his present position as title I supervisor in Hinds County, O'Neal has served as principal at the Pearl McLaurin School in Rankin County and at the George County (Miss.) School. He holds a master's degree in education from the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

Mullin has been a physical education instructor at Jeff Davis Junior College in Biloxi, Miss., since 1967 and has a master's degree in education from USM.

The board also appointed J.D. Penton as principal of Gulfview School in Lakeshore.

In other business, the board failed to approve Mrs. Mildred Ramond as Title III program coordinator at HNC. Board member Eric Larsen made a motion to appoint Mrs. Ramond on Superintendent K.G. McCarty's recommendation, but the motion died for lack of a second.

Mrs. Ramond served as principal of Hancock North Central Elementary and was Title III coordinator during the 1972-73 school year. Paul Monroe was recently named principal of the elementary school, replacing Mrs. Ramond.

The board instructed McCarty to seek applicants for Title III coordinator.

The meeting was recessed until Monday at 1 p.m.

607 Site Chosen

Plans to construct a hospitality station on Highway 607 near I-10 in Hancock County have been announced by the Mississippi Highway Department.

In a letter to State Senator Martin T. Smith, E.L. Boteler, highway department director, suggests that new legislation be drafted allowing construction of the station on Highway 607.

Originally, the highway department had decided to build the station on Interstate 10 east of the 607-Interstate intersection. However, requests from Hancock County residents that the station be built west of 607 resulted in a public hearing April 26 at the Hancock County Courthouse. At that time, several civic leaders suggested that the hospitality station be located in Louisiana, west of the Mississippi-Louisiana line. This is allowable through 1973 legislation drawn up by Senator Smith and State Representative Earl Ladner of Hancock County.

In his letter to Smith, Boteler states, "A suitable site protecting the integrity of safety and traffic movement cannot be located on the Interstate west of the 607 interchange. Therefore, we think we should not at this time proceed with building on I-10 at the rest area site (east of 607) but work toward locating a hospitality station on 607. Ultimately, full rest facilities will be provided on I-10 at the present site."

Boteler also told Smith that the highway department had erected a sign west of 607 which reads, "Gulfport, Biloxi, Mobile Next Right." On a separate panel, the wording, "Gas, Food and Lodging" appears.

Board Awards Contract For Hospital Repair

Bids for installation of a new roof and a cardiac monitoring system were accepted by unanimous motion of Hancock General Hospital trustees at a Tuesday night meeting.

A single bid submitted at an earlier opening by Mandal, Inc. of Gulfport for the installation of the roof was accepted on recommendation of consulting architect Fred Wagner. Mandal's bid price of $64,760 was taken under advisement by the board at a meeting last month pending consideration of the bid package by Wagner. The firm was highly reputable and the specifications in line, Wagner stated in a letter.

In an unrelated matter, a single bid was received in response to a second bid advertisement for purchase of a telemetry system providing a three-station cardiac monitor. Medtronic, Inc. of Metairie, La. bid $6,996 for the system which is presently in use in the hospital for staff doctors' approval.

Two bids received in a previous opening of $11,253 from General Electric Co., and $10,325 from Vital Functions Co. had been rejected as too high.

Dr. M. J. Wolfe, Sr., chief of staff, told the board that the doctors had found the Medtronic system satisfactory and recommended acquisition of that system. A motion was passed authorizing purchase.

Howard Valentine, newly-appointed administrator, presented the board a report summarizing hospital needs and conditions. The 13-point report listed as top priority item a recruitment program for additional staff doctors.

Among the several items listed under needed building improvements were painting and/or installing vinyl wallpaper in patient rooms and supporting service areas; elimination of venetian blinds; providing additional work space for the business office, laboratory, maintenance, purchasing and medical records departments.

Valentine also noted that the housekeeping, maintenance and purchasing departments needed upgrading in both personnel and equipment.

At the conclusion of the report, Valentine stated that he was in the process of establishing priorities for all improvements needed, which will be considered "in the light of the present doctor shortage and a pace set... without causing financial hardship on the hospital".

A lengthy discussion of the proposals followed during which the consensus of the board was that the recommendations were reasonable and with merit. Certain points were approved for adoption and others will be further considered at subsequent meetings.

Tanguis Not Guilty Of Drug Possession

Ronald Tanguis, arrested June 12 at a Waveland residence and charged with possession of marijuana, was found not guilty in a June 19 hearing before Beat Two Justice of the Peace Joseph Dobson.

Tanguis was arrested at the home of Mrs. Susan Lewald when Hancock County Special Agents Ronald Peterson and Paul Bernard, acting under a search warrant, found a small quantity of marijuana and articles of drug paraphernalia in the house. Several marijuana plants were found growing in the yard of the house.

In a June 13 hearing before Judge Dobson, Mrs. Lewald, who was additionally charged with cultivating and growing marijuana, was fined $200 each on charges of possession of paraphernalia and possession of marijuana. The charge of cultivating was dropped due to insufficient evidence.

A 17-year-old Waveland youth, arrested in a separate case the same day, was certified by Hancock County juvenile authorities for hearing in a Justice of the Peace Court. In the June 19 hearing, Dobson ruled the boy guilty of possession of paraphernalia and possession of marijuana. Fines of $200 were levied for each charge.

Louis Demoran, Jr., 23, arrested June 4 for possession of a marijuana cigarette and speeding, was found guilty in a June 19 hearing by Judge Dobson. Demoran was fined $300 for possession of marijuana and $25 on the speeding charge.

Red Beans And Rice

Actor's Showtime

Because Hancock County is struggling to achieve economic stability, new industries would be welcomed with open arms. However, visions of tax dollars for running the county and jobs for the people could at times cloud the judgement of those luring companies to locate here.

In the past Hancock County has been famous for "open and shut companies" as it were. At times, it appears as though the person who coined the phrase "fly by night" must have been a Hancock County native.

But all this is a thing of the past. With confidence, courage and outstretched hands, local officials are constantly searching for business ventures which may choose our fair county.

Don't believe us?

To try and convince those among our readers who may be doubtful, Red Beans and Rice has obtained a list from a very reliable source who prefers to remain anonymous. This list contains several hot prospects which may one day employ Hancock County citizens.

And here are just a few:

REINCARNATION AUTOMOTIVE PARTS company manufactures automobile parts for Studebakers, Edsels and Packards. Company officials have announced plans to expand production to include the DeSoto.

TACITURN PUBLISHING INC. - publishers of such famous books as "The Wit of Lawrence Welk", "Remembered Sayings of the Cisco Kid" and "Spike Jones' Influence on Music".

ELECTIONS UNLIMITED - advertising firm which handles political campaigns. Guided presidential campaigns of George McGovern and Barry Goldwater. Conducted Richard Nixon's campaign for Governor of California.

PECUNIARY FINANCIAL CONSULTANTS - firm offers aid to individuals and companies needing financial advice. In the past clients have been Life magazine, Saturday Evening Post, Hollis-Royce, Robert Vesco and Maurice Stans.

WANDA LAND HAND FAN CORPORATION - interested in locating in the south. Supplies hand fans to several large plantations. Last major client was the cast of "Gone With the Wind".

FRINGED SURRY CARRIAGE CO. - manufactures one and three-seated carriages for horse and buggy transportation.

MADAME BUTTERFLY-SILK STOCKINGS, INC. - rising cost of nylon has caused a terrific increase in the demand for silk stockings. Also manufactures garters to be worn with the silk stockings.

Of course, this is only a sampling and does not include the largest company on the list.

What does it manufacture?

Hula-Hoops, of course.

HOUSE OF THE MONTH, chosen by the Bay St. Louis Cleanup and Beautification Committee is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Maurice, 334 Easterbrook St.

The Coast Electric Power Association announces that it has made an application for a loan from the Rural Electrification Administration, which provides for the construction of about 0.25 miles of 48,000 volt transmission line to be located in Pearl River County and construction of about 0.1 miles of 115,000 volt transmission line to be located in Harrison County.

These facilities will make it possible for the Cooperative to provide service to an estimated 500 new consumers in Pearl River County and an estimated 1,000 new consumers in Harrison County and to meet the increasing power demands of present consumers in these areas.

If there are any comments on the environmental aspects of the proposed construction, they should be submitted to the Cooperative, Post Office Drawer 311, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, 39420, within 30 days of the publication of this notice. ETV-Channel 19

Prominent American artist and Mississippi native Marie Hull gives her thoughts on regional influences on her work and talks about her study and training on the ETV program, "Conversation With."

The program may be seen at 9:30 p.m. June 25, over the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

Socrates, one of the most influential figures in the history of civilization, is the subject of the NET Playhouse Biography at 9 p.m., June 21.

Socrates was born in Athens, but details of his life are little known except as interpreted by Plato, his most famous disciple. Plato used dramatic dialogues as a technique to expound on his teacher's philosophy.

Two playlets, "The Drinking Party" and "The Death of Socrates," based on these dialogues, reveal Socrates' probing intelligence, subtle wit and his uncompromising quest for truth.

Bobby Hackett, the silver-tongued cornetist, will be seen with his quintet featuring Vic Dickenson on "Just Jazz" at 8:30 p.m. June 21, over the Mississippi Educational Television Stations.

Hackett, born in Providence, Rhode Island, in 1915, is one of the world's best known jazzmen due to the widespread exposure of his solo playing on records with Jackie Gleason's strings.

But while Hackett's melodic singing style falls pleasantly on the ear of the general public, he is nonetheless a 100 per cent jazzman whose imaginative improvisations and infallible ear for correct harmonies have earned him praise from all quarters of the jazz world.

Why Are Doctors Leaving?

One by one, the doctors have left Hancock County until, by now, there are only two full-time practicing physicians left in Bay St. Louis.

In a county of more than 17,000 people, a large percentage of whom are indigent, the situation could be alarming.

The first question that arises is: "Why?" Why would all but two general practitioners who came to this area of their own volition and established successful practices for several years, suddenly decide to leave?

And why have two decided to stay? Why has a venerable physician emeritus come out of retirement to assume an active position on the medical staff in support of those two?

In answer to the first question, although most are returning to medical schools to become specialists they have all given the same basic reason for leaving - a lack of money. People in Hancock County, they maintain, simply do not pay their medical bills which eventually causes undue hardships on physicians, all of whom have staggering overhead expenses. Doctors everywhere as well as national statistics bear out that fact.

Expenses Increasing

The average citizen who incurs a sizeable medical bill then blithely fails to pay it might be shocked to learn that it can cost a single doctor $30,000-$40,000 a year to operate his office. The figure is considerably higher for a clinic with two or more doctors. Most have the additional expense of maintaining a family.

One might say in rebuttal that "all doctors make a LOT of money", and to a certain degree this is true. Specialists in big metropolitan areas make vast amounts of money.

But we're not dealing with them. We're concerned with general practitioners (now an endangered species) in an under-populated, rural, economically deprived county.

We're concerned with men who came to Hancock County presumably filled with humanitarian instincts to practice general medicine. Men who through years of working very hard while charging minimal fees which they too often didn't collect, watched their friends and colleagues in other cities getting rich, and some, famous.

To even the most idealistic, that can be most discouraging.

Age Of Specialization

Another reason given is the restriction placed on a general practitioner by the medical profession itself, geared more and more to specialties. The whole community rose up in righteous indignation some months ago when local doctors announced that they wouldn't take any more obstetrical cases, as they simply weren't equipped to handle them. Still, no one makes a fuss over the fact that few gas stations these days will wash cars or handle involved engine or transmission repairs. The public will accept the age of specialization in the automotive industry but it expects a doctor to be all things to all patients. Because he used to be.

And that raises another question. Does the fault for so many leaving lie entirely with the public or should the doctors' principles and goals be questioned? What is the difference in values that causes two to stay and a third to come out of a well-earned retirement?

The answer to that is buried in one of the greatest paradoxes of the medical profession. A doctor spends his professional life listening to the complaints and problems of his patients but seems totally incapable of any return communication. Apparently, it is considered decidedly unprofessional for a physician to discuss himself or any matters of the medical field, good or bad, with anyone. Members of the press are regarded as pariahs, or a communicable disease, to be avoided at all costs.

Locally, any physician who answers a reporter's questions without prior approval of all his colleagues incurs the wrath and ostracism of the group. Their paranoia even extends to extreme agitation over articles written by request and sanction of the hospital administration, which doesn't do much for the doctors' public relations with the press.

So whatever their reasons for leaving or staying, we can only judge by the little that has been said, and concern ourselves with the problem at hand.

Community Responsibilities

It would behoove this community to take a long, hard look at itself in relation to the problem, and realize that the responsibility for the maintenance and growth of a successful medical community does not lie totally with the doctors and the hospital administration.

Perhaps it's time we realize that we need them far more than they need us. None of the doctors or hospital staff has to stay here. They can all go somewhere else and do better.

The hospital board has shown its mettle by rising to the challenge of grave adversities to keep open a medical facility to serve a constantly maligning public (which doesn't pay its hospital bills, either!).

Maybe a change in attitude and a better show of appreciation from the public they serve will go a long way toward improving conditions for those who are here and help to create an inducement for others to come.

If things don't improve, the alternatives are frightening.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

This has been a very unsettling week for everybody. As Christopher Morley wrote: "I am not free, and it may be that Life is too tight around my shins; For unlike you, I can't break through - A truant Where the Blue begin." So we've been looking around for quirks on the lighter side - and we found quite a few.

Naturally, we turned first to television, and right away we started laughing at the current car commercial in which a fabulous fur coat is ridden around in a car with a vial of horrible poison suspended over it like the sword of Damocles; if the car bounced enough to spill one drop of the acid on the coat, a $50,000 hole would be eaten in the fur. Next was the commercial in which the lady says that the family always takes a can of a certain furniture polish with them on their weekly trips to the lake; presumably they spend their weekends polishing tables.

We enjoy the gullibility of the tv watchers who accept as gospel the statements of advertisers that a certain compound will make your glassware "virtually" spotless or your kitchen floor "practically" dirt-free. Why, we want to know, will people spend dollars in these pinching times on energy conceivable kind of useless gadget and beauty preparation, health pill and pain killer. And why will they sit without protest through twenty-five or more commercial "messages" in an hour of so-called program (we counted eight in a row one day last week) or let the networks get away with hour after hour of stale and pointless reruns of old programs?

Then there's the local politician-he's always good for a smile. When he's running for office, butter wouldn't melt in his mouth, but when he's elected it takes an earthquake to move him to do the things he has promised. To be charitable, we suppose the local politician does the best he can for the good of the people, but it seems there is a miasma of insincerity and sometimes of downright deceit that pervades the political field and makes the best intentions often backfire.

Most people instinctively want to be honest, and it is amusing to see their struggles to overcome the everyday forces of greed and envy and deceit which strive to pull them from the narrow path. With most people, as Morley says, life is too tight around their shins, and they struggle all life long to reach the blue horizon of freedom and tranquility.

Treatment should be under the supervision of a veterinarian. But at the first symptom, animal should be drenched with a gallon of vinegar.

Poisoning is likely to occur when urea is fed from two sources, or when an overdose is fed from one source. It can be avoided when animals are changed over gradually to urea-containing feeds and when recommended limits of urea in the feed are not exceeded. Use care when feeding any ration containing urea.

SOYBEANS

If you have not yet planted your soybeans, select one of the later maturing varieties. For planting after June 25, the best varieties will be Davis, Semmes, Bragg, Ransom, Coker 26A and Hutton. Bragg is most flexible of all of these varieties, in terms of planting dates. Ransom, Coker 26A and Hutton are not well suited to heavy clay but can be planted on the sandier soils.

Chamber ReportBy Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

The latest correspondence received from E.L. Bolter, director of the Mississippi State Highway Department, regarding the I-10 Hospitality Center states "It apparently will be advisable that new legislation be drafted allowing the Highway Department to construct a hospitality station on Highway 607, with the money being appropriated from the general funds, as in the present appropriation.

Therefore, we think we should not at this time proceed with building on I-10 at the rest area site but work toward locating a hospitality station on 607. Ultimately, full rest facilities will be located on the Interstate west of the 607 interchange.

"For your information, we are placing new signs on Interstate 10 at

Highway 607 reading 'Gulfport, Biloxi,

Mobile Next Right'. The sign is 20' long and 4' high. On a separate panel appears the wording 'Gas, food, and lodging' and is 12' long and 2' high.

There is an existing sign, as I am sure you are aware, which says 'Mississippi

Gulf Coast Next Right'.

We now have to work towards getting additional funds for a 607 West location, and with the fine efforts we have seen from Senator Martin, Smith and Representative Earl "Buck" Ladner toward this goal, success will surely be ours. With new sign on I-10 we can better afford to wait for the Hospitality Center to be located in the most feasible area, rather than take a Center now at Highway 603, which is an undesirable location for us.

County Agent's NotesJohn W. Smith County Agent
Hancock CountyFERTILIZE AND MANAGE PASTURES

If your summer permanent pastures are just average - capable of supplying grass for one cow and calf on every three acres, you can do something about it.

Lots of Mississippi Cattlemen, through fertilization and good pasture management, have pastures that support one cow and her calf per acre.

Summer grass pastures tend to get tough and extremely low in quality toward late summer. This can be prevented to some extent through fertilization and management. Nitrogen fertilization will improve the protein content of the grass, make grass more succulent and improve the efficiency of moisture use.

Between now and July 1st, apply 45 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Then, in early August, make another nitrogen application. This should allow enough nitrogen supply the grass until frost.

Cows will eat more grass that is highly fertilized because of increased protein content and palatability.

Along with fertilization, management of grazing is needed to get the most from the fertilizer and keep the grass tender all summer. Summer pastures should be divided into at least three grazing areas, and cattle rotated from one area to another each week. This will force the cattle to eat all of the grass and prevent spot grazing. It will also permit uniform regrowth of the grass once the cattle are moved.

In 1967 - Mississippi farmers used 800,000 tons of lime. In 1972, they used only 500,000 tons. Why? Agronomists estimate that we should use 8 million tons now, to bring our soil up to the recommended pH.

We cannot afford to go backwards in our liming program. Lime is a bluechip investment.

UREA POISONING
Urea toxicity or poisoning can occur when an animal received more than the daily recommended limits of urea. Symptoms of urea poisoning develop rapidly (within 30 to 60 minutes) after the animal eats a toxic dose.

These symptoms in cattle include uneasiness, staggering and kicking at the flank, at which point they usually go down. Other symptoms may include labored breathing, bloating, and diarrhea.

Treatment should be under the supervision of a veterinarian. But at the first symptom, animal should be drenched with a gallon of vinegar.

Poisoning is likely to occur when urea is fed from two sources, or when an overdose is fed from one source. It can be avoided when animals are changed over gradually to urea-containing feeds and when recommended limits of urea in the feed are not exceeded. Use care when feeding any ration containing urea.

Social Security Information

If you receive a social security check because you are attending school, it's your responsibility to keep your social security office advised of any change in your school status.

Joseph D. Alfonso, representative of the Gulfport social security office said students fail to contact his office when they should and get over-paid. He gave these rules which will keep your check coming right on time.

If you are working and you are earning over $140 a month, let your social security office know. If you become a part-time student, drop out of school or change schools, let your social security office know as soon as possible. If your employer pays you to go to school, let your social security office know. If you should marry, let your social security office know.

Mr. Alfonso, said if you will follow these simple rules, you won't receive social security checks you are not entitled to. He said when a change does occur in your school status, simply give his office a call and they will handle it from there. The telephone number is WX-1323.

Reflections

THE BAY-ALL-STARS posed for this team picture in 1941. Perhaps the team's most memorable game was the first Shrimp Bowl on Dec. 7, 1941 when they travelled to Biloxi to play Keesler. According to Jim Ladner of Hollywood, Calif., who submitted the photo, the game was in progress when the attack of Pearl Harbor was announced. The Bay All Stars defeated Keesler, 12-0. Members of the team included: top row (standing) from left, Junior Farve, T. Thomas, V. Moreale, H. Monti, Buck Quintini, not identified, Clay Boyd, R. J. ## THE BOOKWORM

BY: ETHEL E. EVANS Publicity Chairman
Friends of the City-County Library

Reading is the Name of the Game—and it's being played all over town with different variations:

First there is the Summer Reading Program sponsored by all Mississippi State Public Libraries, and especially planned for school children from first through sixth grades. Educators feel that children need practice in reading during the summer months to maintain their reading level, and this program makes it fun, as there is a certificate given for each eight books the student reads, which is presented at the end of the Summer Reading Program. Books are available from the City-County Library, the Waveland Library or the Bookmobile.

Last year there were 400 certificates presented in Hancock County. If you are eligible, why not join the "game" this year?

Then there is the "game" of reading that goes on every Friday morning from 10:30 to 11:00 at the Library. This is Story Hour, with Mrs. Pete Benvenutti delighting her audience of children from age three and up. This, however, isn't only a summer-time "game", but is held year-round—same time, same place, same fun.

The last of the reading "games" is brand-new, the rules of which have just been made known. Its name is Volunteers for Reading Program on a One to One Basis. You see, some children are not as skilled in reading as others, so they need special attention to improve. Friends of the Library contacted the school administrators, asking for a list of children needing such summer-time assistance.

Simultaneously, they asked for volunteers to listen to these children read for one hour a week—that's all, just listen and encourage the reader. Since over 200 children's names were given as needing assistance it is necessary to get many more volunteers to work with them. The time and place for playing this "game" is decided by the volunteer and her temporary pupil, as it can be at either of their homes or at the Library. Any adult or teenager interested in helping a child become more proficient in reading by having a practice session one hour of each week is urged to contact Mrs. Charles Dickinson at 467-6434, coordinator of the Program.

And then if perhaps reading isn't the "game" you want to play this summer, why not try looking? For starters go to Gulf National Bank to view the exhibit sponsored by Friends of the Library. An oil by Brother Timothy Casey, S. C. which he has titled "The Broken Glass" is beautiful and unusual. There is also a sculpture done by Marcel Anderson of Waveland, that talented young man who works such magic with brass; as yet he has not given this last work a title. The works of these two professional artists will be on display for the following six weeks. Which, if you think about it, means you can play "looking" all summer long!

Red Cross Elects New Chairmen

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross has recently elected replacements for the newly vacated chairs due to the numerous resignations in the local chapter.

Joseph Bermond has been elected as disaster chairman along with Ed Friloux as vice-chairman. Bermond replaces J. R. Lavole. Walter Keen was elected chapter chairman replacing Daniel Edwards and Mrs. Mildred Church and Rita Cox replace Mrs. Robert Clark as volunteers chairman.

Bill Wharton, a representative from the Mobile Chapter, expressed his pleasure over the interest and concern shown by the new chairman and made note that the chapter should now be able to improve in its endeavors. Wharton suggested keeping in mind that the regional office considers this area a high risk area, that the money situation is not critical but it is not good and that the chapter is in need of blood bank volunteers, noting his concern over the possible resignation of John Rutherford, Blood Bank chairman.

Brother Albert Ledet of Stanislaus offered his full cooperation to Friloux with a first aid water safety program in the county, which will be publicized.

Friloux reported on the formation of "Fire Watch" a rescue squadron to service the needs of the people in cluding first aid vehicles to transport people; servicing firemen with cold drinks; telephone service; clothing and shelters.

He stated that the Chapter is presently equipped with 75 cots but are in need of blankets and coffee pots.

Mrs. L. L. Kergosien, executive secretary, reported a total to date of approximately $270 toward the Mississippi Flood Victims Fund which includes a donation from as far away as Florida. Donations may still be sent in care of the American Red Cross, P. O. Box 149, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520. Donors are asked to make a notation on the check designating it for the Mississippi Disaster Flood Fund.

Ladner-Cuevas

Exchange Vows

Infant of Prague Catholic Church, White Cypress, was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss Sandra Ann Cuevas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilden L. Cuevas of Necaise Crossing, and Troy Lamar Ladner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neville M. Ladner, De Lisle. Rev. Pierre Hesse performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white and lavender gladiolas. Norman Breaux and Jack Breaux were altar boys and L. J. Breaux was commentator.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown which she designed and made. The soft silhouette was fashioned of cloud white shimmering organza over white bridal satin. The high neckline and long fitted sleeves puffed above the wrist were enhanced by scalloped Chantilly lace re-embroidered with tiny pearls. Similar lace adorned the bodice and bordered the full skirt and detachable chapel length train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of lace flowers, embroidered in pearls. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs. Crystal Hoda, White Cypress, attended the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Christine Breaux, White Cypress; Jamie Brown, Rt. 1, Pass Christian; Gwen Ladner, sister of the groom, DeLisle; Miss Tracey Lynn Ladner, the bride's cousin, DeLisle, was junior bridesmaid. Christie Ladner and Kitzie Ladner, the groom's nieces, served as flower girls. Barry Necaise, the bride's cousin, was ring bearer.

Melvin Ladner was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Kenny Ladner, cousin of the groom, C.J. Hoda, John Carlos Cuevas, brother of the bride, and Joel Ladner. Ronald Cuevas, uncle of the bride, and Andy Ladner, cousin of the groom, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Home, White Cypress.

The bride's table held a five-tiered cake. Corn flowers and white daisies completed the table decorations.

For traveling the bride chose a two-piece lavender and white knit ensemble with white accessories and carried a nosegay of purple orchids.

The couple will make their home at Route 2, Perkinston, Miss.

Bake or buy your favorite fruit-and-nut-bread-and-feature one special cake. This sponge cake, filled with jelly and dusted with confectioners sugar, is a typical English tea cake.

1/2 teaspoon salt Confectioners sugar

Grease 2 (8 x 1 1/4-inch) layer cake pans; line with waxed paper. Sift together into a mixing bowl, flour, sugar, corn starch, baking powder and salt. Add water and oil; mix together lightly with a fork, egg yolks, corn oil and water. Stir into dry ingredients. Beat whites until stiff peaks form when beaten again. Fold into flour mixture. By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

The weather is usually unpredictable but we have had good weather for the past week with the exception of a couple of thundershowers which are needed by the sportsmen who have a home garden.

According to the water for fishing it is also unpredictable. For those who fish these streams, East Pearl River is still a little on the muddy side but is clearing rapidly, while lower Black Bayou and Mills Bayou are beautiful after a falling tide. They are black from the head to the mouth when the tides fall. Might as well stay home if you have a rising tide in this territory.

Fresh water fishing is best when the tide falls all day. This should begin at the end of this week. Remember the tides are controlled by the moon.

Went up Pearl River to the 10 Bridge over the week end, the water was too bad for fishing but should be good in a week or so.

Don't rely on what other people say, go yourself and find out. That is what we did. No fish, of course.

Met two nice folks and good fishermen. They are Howell Russ and son Howell Russ, Jr. They are former residents of Logtown but now live in Hattiesburg. They come here to fish and usually catch their share of the finny-tribe. It is a pleasure to fish back home as they put it.

For you folks who know him, saw Brother Anselm the other day. He is a brother of the Sacred Heart order. Taught at St. Stanislaus way back. Brother celebrated his Golden Jubilee of Profession. Was stationed at Bay St. Louis during 1934-42. Still talks about when he went soft crabbing with us. Brother is stationed in New York but still loves Bay St. Louis and its folks. Sent regards to all.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - One of our older fishermen is Edward Fayard who was a bridge tender for the L&N Railroad and is now retired. Edward did a lot of fishing and crabbing while off duty.

Son Rudolph is out of the hospital again. Doing O.K. he said. Can't keep a good old fisherman down.

Crawfish (Crayfish) are to be here a little longer this year is the opinion of Al Scramuzza according to Dan Greene who interviewed him. He has been in the Crawfish game for '22 years.

The mud bugs have never been more abundant, nor of better quality, according to taste buds, said Al. It's kinder hard work to crawfish but is still fun for those who can take it.

The "Back School" ain't no more. It was torn down some time ago. I was asked to write a little something about the old school by a couple of fellows who attended the school, Vic Carver and Clois Debeau.

The Back School also called "Rip University", named by Bishop Leo Fahey who attended it, was here during the time of the old Mary Jane which ran out of New Orleans. The Engman family,

Four Games Played In Youth League

Four games were played in the second week of play in the Youth Softball League.

On Tuesday night the Little Foxes girls' team defeated Annunciation of Kilmurry 30-4. Judy Dahn was the winning pitcher, with Sharon Mitchell absorbing the loss.

In the boys game Tuesday night St. Rose defeated Annunciation 22-13. Gary Dorsey was the winning pitcher, while David Haas was the loser.

Thursday night the St. Rose girls defeated the OLG Independents 21-18. At the end of three innings St. Rose had an 18-0 lead over OLG. OLG started fighting back in the bottom of the fourth inning and for the final three innings allowed St. Rose only three.

benefactors, were partly responsible for the school which was run by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart of St. Stanislaus, to name a couple Brother Steve and Brother Odem who chewed "Picnic Twits" chewing tobacco, a thing of the past. The Back School was as popular in those days as many of its scholars are today.

The school was located on Booker Street.

Was glad to see Jack Garriga out fishing Sunday. Jack is both a good fisherman and hunter. Does it right, goes hunting in winter and fishing during the fishing season. This was his first trip out this year.

Mrs. Baxter, Roy's mother isn't much of a fisherman but is wonderful when it comes to helping fishermen go fishing. She is a long time resident of Logtown so we know she had to do a little fishing way back.

Most salt water fish caught over the weekend were red fish. They have been caught up Jordan River, and Bayou LaCroix. Of course, some were gotten in the Bay at the mouth of the lower Cut Off and Jourdan River.

For those fishing in the Pearl River area, Louisiana game wardens are on the prowl checking for fishing licenses and violations regarding fish limits and life saving regulations, including safety cushions, etc. Don't go fishing unless you are prepared. It could be costly. Louisiana 1973-74 fishing licenses went on sale June 1st "but they will not be valid until July 1st"; therefore, it is important that anglers do not discard the old license until after July 1st.

"Louisiana residents who intend to fish between now and the first of July, especially during the long July 4 holiday weekend, must possess a valid license."

Louisiana law requires a runs and the OLG girls slowly cut the margin of score to 21-18.

In the boys game the OLG Independents defeated EYC 17-4. OLG took an early 3-1 lead but at the end of five innings the EYC boys went ahead 7-6.

In the sixth inning OLG took the lead again by the score of 9-6. OLG continued to add to their lead in the top of the seventh inning making the final score 17-3.

The winning pitcher in the girls game Thursday night was Debra Bradley while Rhonda Aimes was the loser. In the boys game, Jesse Schwartz was the winner. Herman Johnson took the loss for EYC.

BOYS PARTICIPATING IN the fourth annual Pearl River Junior College Boys Basketball Camp, Junior High Division from the Bay St. Louis area include: Paul Lagasse, Randy Koenen, Tim Carter, Louis Smith, Bill Ginn, and David Rhodes.

P & L Team Leads League

Last Wednesday the first game of Men's Softball League went five innings with Coast Electric defeating Coast Merchants 25-4. Mike Lee was the winning pitcher, with Mike Marquar being charged with the loss.

The second game of the night went into extra innings with number one P & L.

Construction defeating Ladner's 12-10 in eight innings. Cuddle Bourgeois was the winning pitcher, while Randy Ladner took the loss.

The third game of the night was a run-away with Superior Supply defeating Miller's 22-0 in five innings. The winning pitcher was Terrell Ladner, the losing pitcher was Jimmy Lafontaine.

The second game of the night was a nip and tuck battle for eight innings with Miller's defeating Coast Electric 6-5.

The winning pitcher was Rogers Mitchell. The loser was Billy Taylor.

The third game of the night was called at the end of five and one-half innings with the Krack Bar defeating the Sluggers 19-11. Harry Farve was the winning pitcher, with Rogers Hawkins taking the loss.

The first game Monday was a five-inning game with Superior Supply defeating Krack Bar 12-0. Larry Favre was the winning pitcher while Harry Farve was the loser.

The second game of the night started out as if it were going to be a run-away with the Sluggers holding a 12-4 lead going into the bottom of the seventh inning. P & L

Construction came back strong in the bottom of the seventh inning and made the final score 12-11. The winning pitcher was Berlin Hawkins, with Tom Mayfield absorbing the loss.

The third game of the night was won by Coast Electric over Ladner's by the score of 12-4. Billy Taylor was the winning pitcher with Randy Ladner taking the loss.

There were five home runs hit in the three games Monday night.
